

It was supposed to be the beginning of a new life – not a replay of her old one ... For eight years, Kris was the property of a brutal slaver captain. Now she's free and a brand-new cadet at the Nereidian Leagues military academy. All she brings to this new life is a unique set of skills, a profound ignorance of civilized society, and a large chip on her shoulder. But Kris isn't quite sure what to make of the Academy, and the Academy isn't at all sure what to make of her. The medical staff thinks she's homicidal, her fellow cadets think she's crazy, and her instructors don't know what to think. So when she's approached about helping to capture a terrorist warlord, she's more than happy to leave the halls of academia behind for a while. Kris knows she's not signing up for any pleasure cruise. What she doesn't know is that the key to the mission's success is reliving her very worst nightmare ... Authors Note: This second edition does not include the extensive glossary that appeared in the first edition. The text of the story itself has not been revised or changed in any way. The full glossary, comprised of over 400 entries, is now available for free on our website. (The link can be found at the end of this edition.)
